

Edinburgh 2012

The FIAPAC biennial conference

Edinburgh International Conference Centre, 19-20 October 2012

Edinburgh

Edinburgh, the capital of Scotland, United Kingdom, will be the location for the 2012 biennial conference. The venue will be the award winning Edinburgh International Conference Centre, located in the city centre just a few minutes' walk from Edinburgh Castle and the famous Princes Street.

The conference

FIAPAC 2012 will offer a full two day programme with plenary sessions, workshops, concurrent sessions and discussion groups. There will be plenty of networking time and the social programme will include a conference dinner with entertainment and Scottish dancing.

Venue and travel

Edinburgh International Conference Centre (EICC)

The EICC is one of the UK's premier venues for conferences, exhibitions and events offering state of the art facilities including a visually inspiring auditorium. In addition, numerous workshop and exhibition spaces make the EICC an excellent choice for FIAPAC 2012.

Getting to Edinburgh

Scotland's capital is well-served by road and rail networks and has both a major international airport and ferry port within easy reach of the city centre.

By Air

Edinburgh International Airport offers direct flights from and to MOST major UK, European and International Cities and is served by many UK low cost airlines. The airport is only 12km from the city and has excellent coach and taxi connections. We would recommend early booking to secure reduced airfares. For further information please visit www.edinburghairport.com

By Coach

Many coach services operate from Edinburgh from the rest of the UK. For further details please contact National Express on 0845 600 7245 or visit www.nationalexpress.com

By Train

Fast train services offer direct links to Edinburgh Waverley station from all parts of the UK. The railway station is centrally located, less than 1k from the EICC. Advance purchase for reduced fares is advisable. For further details and prices please contact:

British Rail – Tel: 0845 7484950 or visit www.nationalrail.co.uk

Registration and Accommodation

The Conference will be providing a full accommodation booking service and details will soon be available on this website, along with an online registration facility.
